President's Message

Having a Voice in Your Future

Pam Doolittle

While I tap away on the keyboard to rough out a June message for you, I'm listening to students outside my office leave their exam rooms in celebration. Spring semester is finally coming to a close. It has been an exciting time on the campus, where students have experienced many "firsts" given their age and experiences, including the first snow day at the UW-Madison in over 15 years, unprecedented political protests around the campus and capitol, and a renewed awareness of what it really means to vote, debate and have one's opinions be heard.

The campus community works hard to maintain a culture of integrity, both academically and organizationally, with the goal that faculty, staff and students will not only say but ACT in way that is representative of one's core values and beliefs. Chancellor Biddy Martin said in a meeting I attended recently, "A culture of integrity must rest on a sense that all have voice."

The chancellor's quote above resonated with me, since one thing I hope each member of WDCTA realizes and values, is that YOU have a voice in our organization. Last year we reached out to members (present and past) with a detailed member survey, which our state board used to evaluate our member programs and services. Some outcomes included making member-friendly changes to our awards program, expanding and updating our library holdings, making clinic fees equitable across chapters, and reaching out to chapters to encourage activities local to their area.

June and July I will once again be visiting chapter meetings around the state to listen to your ideas, concerns and wishes as WDCTA continues its work in serving as your educational partner in sport. Check out our calendar for the date and time details close to you. I would really like to meet you, and am excited to bring your ideas and wishes back to the state board. Even if you can't make the meetings, you can still e-mail me and/or your chapter president to share your feedback.

In just a few more months, the WDCTA state board will undergo its biennial transformation. Perhaps you've considered volunteering in the past, but the timing just wasn't right? Or perhaps it seems we have all the help we need? Friends, let me share we can always use the help! If you have experience or interest in finance, writing, advertising or organizing, consider lending some of your time to help out. Perhaps you have an idea for a new award or program we can implement? Tell us more. Our current board has worked very hard to renew and revitalize a positive culture in our organization. Join us in paying this forward to the next group leading our mission. Even if volunteering for WDCTA is a "first" for you, I think you will find it to be a positive and rewarding way to engage in our sport.

I credit a good deal of my own "voice" to my wonderful dad, who encouraged me all my life to think independently, believe in myself and pursue my dreams. When I was a little girl, my dad coined me, "Zoomer," sharing that I rarely sat down for anything or anyone, but rather zoomed around the room asking many questions and enticing my family to play with me.

I was not the cuddly girl he imaged me to be when I was first born. And as my interest in horses and animals grew, nor did I turn out to be the "sugar and spice and everything nice" kind of little girl either. I was more eager to follow my dad in the field on a rabbit hunt or tag along in a fishing boat, than sit at home with dolls and a tea set.

My dad wasn't sure my horse interest was the healthiest of choices; he certainly knew it wasn't healthy for his pocket book! So he was very quick to lend approval for any direction my interests took that seemed to bring me back to what he called the "real world." Regardless, he let me explore my options.

Our family talked and debated a lot over the dinner table or during long family trips in the car. My dad was (and remains) extremely opinionated and candid, so any opposition required a lot of thought and logic. And even though debates could sound heated and unfriendly to an outsider, in the end, my dad was teaching us important skills and lessons for the future. Growing up, my father's approval for a job well done was the greatest reward. My chemistry degree, in many ways, ties back to Saturday afternoons spent with my Dad working by his side in the Schlitz Brewing Company laboratories. I finished a Ph.D. in chemistry, in part, because of a bet I had with my Dad. On paper I won, but the wiser man will tell you he was really the winner.

So let me close by wishing Happy Father's Day to all the dads supporting and inspiring their kids. I'm lucky to still have my dad in my life, and am thankful for the lessons I still learn from him. To those whose dads have passed on, I hope you feel a fresh breeze on your cheek, carrying just a whisper of a kiss on this special day for fathers.

OOPS!

Last month, I missed mentioning two other WDCTA members who were selected as demonstration riders under Steffen Peters at the Midwest Horse Fair in mid-April: Haley Madden and Amanda Johnson. Congratulations! Thank you for doing such a great job representing the beauty and artistry of our sport to the masses.

BITS 'N PIECES

News About Members, News to Help Members

Show Season is Underway! Are You Signed Up for Awards?

Remember – you must be signed up for your awards category seven days before your first show. Here's a link to the forms page on the WDCA website.

New this year: Now the same rider/horse combination may win the same award for three consecutive years at Intro Level through Fourth Level. (For the FEI levels, it is already possible for the same rider/horse combination to win the same award for an unlimited number of consecutive years.) This change is intended to help horse/rider partnerships that, for example, aren't quite ready to move up to the next level or an illness or injury prevents the combination from moving up to the next level the following year.

Steffen Peters-Janet Foy Symposium Application Forms on WDCTA Website

The application forms for riders, auditors and sponsors are on the WDCTA website at the Forms tab (located on the bottom of each page.) Rider applications, including video, must be received by DeAnn Howard on or before Saturday noon, Oct. 1 (not just postmarked, but in DeAnn's hands) in order to be considered. WDCTA is not responsible for late or misdirected mail. The first deadline for auditors is Nov. 11. USDF University credits are available for attendees too.

Facebook Connects You to Others

Join the WDCTA Facebook page. News is posted there such as riding schedules for clinics, questions from other members, heads-ups about upcoming events and notices that there are still riding openings in clinics. So connect by searching Facebook under WDCTA or Wisconsin Dressage & Combined Training. See you there, "face"-book-to-"face"book!

MEMBERS: Send in your chapter, farm, training or personal news for this column by the 15th of each month to newsletter@wdcta.org.

All advertisements, articles and photographs (with photo release) should be submitted electronically to the editor by the 15th of the month, with payment for advertisements postmarked no later than the 15th. Ads and calendar of events submissions will appear in both the eQuarter and on the website.

Advertising rates and requirements are under Forms on www.wdcta.org.

The Dressage Foundation Announces a Special Project in Honor of Lowell Boomer's 100th Birthday Celebration!

The Dressage Foundation is pleased to announce a special video project in honor of founder Lowell Boomer's 100th birthday on October 12.

The Dressage Foundation invites those who knew or trained with Lowell, or those who have been touched by the work Lowell has done for the sport of dressage, to submit a video clip celebrating this milestone. These videos can include birthday wishes, thoughts, and reminiscences. Please include your name (and the name Lowell knew you by, if it has changed) as well as how you know Lowell at the beginning of your video. Photos of you or you with Lowell would also be appreciated, whether those are shown as part of the video or mailed/mailed to the Foundation office to be included in the final video compilation.

Lowell founded the United States Dressage Federation (USDF) in 1973 and The Dressage Foundation in 1989. Lowell's vision has produced two premier dressage organizations, structured and operating as separate entities, one focused on education, the other on funding. Lowell was named by The Chronicle of the Horse as "one of the 50 most influential horsemen of the 20th Century." He has devoted a large measure of his time, talent and treasure to the world of dressage, leaving a rich legacy for our sport.

Join us in greeting him for his milestone 100th birthday on October 12, through this special video project.

All video clips will be included in a DVD presented to Lowell. Cards and letters may also be sent to the Foundation office at 1314 'O' Street, Suite 305, Lincoln, NE 68508. Please include your contact information with your videos and cards or letters. For alternative delivery methods (email, secure website, etc), please contact the Foundation office at (402) 434-8585.

Videos must be received at The Dressage Foundation office no later than

Lowell Boomer

September 1st. If you would like to be included in the final DVD, but do not have access to video equipment, please contact the Foundation office at (402) 434-8585 for alternatives.

On the Bit

Livin' on the Wild Side...An Up Close and Personal Lesson

by Caryn Vesperman, editor

If you're wondering by looking at the zebra to the right if I have decided to try dressage on an equine of a different color, the answer is no. My domesticated variety seems to have enough tricks without my taking on the truly wild ones!

These photos were actually taken during my safari to South Africa in April. Besides loving the stripes, I thoroughly enjoyed watching zebra and observing their similarities to our domestic equines. I also enjoyed watching their interactions with cheetah. Zebra had very little fear of them because they knew a cheetah wouldn't try to take them on. And, as a matter of fact, they followed the cheetah to see what they were up to – the zebras' version of a TV show. (Now if these were lions, the zebra would be high-tailing it away as fast as possible!) Perhaps a good reminder for all of us riders: Know what is really a risk and be smart about it, but step right up to situations that could end up being enjoyable, if not entertaining.

The safari was a trip of a lifetime and confirmed my belief about protecting these animals from the shrinking of their habitat and poachers who are hunting elephant and rhino for their horns, which are bought and sold on the black market for ornamental use or as aphrodisiacs and other baseless medicinal purposes.

While we don't have poachers in the U.S., we are witnessing the loss of open space due to development. Some day, the only place we'll have to ride will be in our arenas, and the only wild life we'll observe will be in zoos and other preserves. The 70's Joni Mitchell song, "Yellow Taxi" (or if you prefer, a link to the more recent Counting Crows' version) sums that sentiment up perfectly! Many opportunities exist to help conserve land and donate to the preservation of wildlife. Let's do our part so our world continues to be as diverse and fascinating for the near future and future generations.

Top to bottom: Zebra hanging out in front of our tent. Two zebra "tracking" a cheetah (look to their left) who was tracking a rival cheetah who had dared to encroach on his territory.

Left and below: A close encounter with an annoyed elephant (close enough to touch from the jeep, but I didn't!). Turns out she was annoyed with a rhino who would not move along as the elephant "requested." Turns out, the rhino was just trying to protect her baby, so moving on was a bit slow since the baby rhino was clueless as to why mom was in a hurry.

Health Alert on the Equine Herpes Virus-1 (EHV-1)

This information provided by the Wisconsin Equine Clinic. As of press time, no confirmed cases of EHV-1 had been reported in Wisconsin. If you have questions or concerns about the EHV-1 outbreak, contact your veterinarian or other reliable resources.

An outbreak of the neurologic strain of Equine Herpes Virus-1 (EHV-1) is currently underway in the United States. The outbreak has been traced to a recent cutting horse competition in Ogden, Utah, at the National Cutting Horse Association's Western National Championship. Horses from at least 29 states, including two from Wisconsin, attended this competition and may have been exposed. Affected and suspect cases have been reported in Utah, Washington, Idaho, California, Arizona, Colorado and Alberta, Canada. The Wisconsin State Veterinarian, Dr. Robert Ehlenfeldt, has released a statement available at <http://datcp.wi.gov/news/> encouraging appropriate biosecurity precautions be utilized to prevent the spread of the disease. No recent cases of the neurologic form of EHV-1 have been reported in Wisconsin.

Clinical signs of EHV-1 include respiratory signs, such as cough or nasal discharge. The neurologic form of EHV-1 can be preceded by a fever. A rectal temperature should be taken on any horse that is showing any signs of respiratory disease, lethargy, dullness, anorexia or colic signs. Please call your veterinarian, if your horse has a temperature greater than 101.5°F. Signs of the neurologic form of EHV-1 include: decreased coordination, hind limb weakness, loss of tail tone, dribbling of urine and an inability to rise. If you see any neurologic abnormalities in your horse, please contact your veterinarian immediately!

EHV-1 has four manifestations, which include a neurologic form, respiratory disease, abortion and neonatal death. The most common route of infection is direct horse-to-horse contact, because the virus is shed via the respiratory tract. EHV-1 can also be spread indirectly by contact with contaminated items, such as tack, buckets, grooming equipment and contaminated stalls. EHV-1 is not transmissible to people, however, it can be carried and spread indirectly and inadvertently to other horses on hands and clothing. Extra precautions should be exercised if you are attending a horse show or your horse is traveling to a place where they can come in contact with other horses.

Precautions include not allowing your horses to come in nose to nose contact with unknown horses and monitoring rectal temperatures daily. We recommend isolating horses for seven days after they have attended a horse show or anywhere they have come in contact with other horses. During the seven-day isolation period, we recommend taking daily rectal temperatures.

Dressage: Not Just For Trotting Horses

by Carol Stroede

We all know what dressage is: elegant riders in formal dress piloting high-dollar warmbloods through flashy extensions, piaffes, passages—all that Olympic stuff. Or, if we've been to a local dressage show, our next door neighbor on a Quarter Horse/Thoroughbred/Arabian/Morgan/Fjord/Appy/what-have-you working their way through almost any test in the USDF book. What we don't expect to find is a gaited horse doing the same thing.

Well, folks, we're here to tell you those gaited horses most assuredly can.

Forget the trotting thing—they don't and shouldn't. But they certainly are able to collect and extend, go soft and round, bend around a circle, stretch down and come back into the hand....

In short, that Walker or Mountain Horse, that Fox Trotter or Paso, that Icelandic can do dressage. Not only can they, but they will have the opportunity to do so this summer, because the Kettle Moraine Chapter of the Wisconsin Dressage and Combined Training Association, in conjunction with Sorensen Equestrian Park, will be offering classes at our schooling shows.

Kettle Moraine Chapter has offered classes for Tennessee Walkers for several years, but we have chosen to open our doors to all gaited breeds. Our judges are willing and able. Any horse, trotting or gaited, is eligible for the high-point award, paid entry to the comparable classes at Sorensen's schooling show championship this fall.

So circle July 16 and August 27 on your calendars and dust off those snaffle bits. Download the tests and give it a go.

You'll find us on the WDCTA website: wdcta.org. Any of the Kettle Moraine Chapter officers listed there will be more than happy to answer your questions.

International Helmet Awareness Day June 11

From EuroDressage.com

Building on the success of National Helmet Awareness Day 2010, the popular helmet awareness campaign Riders4Helmets.com has announced plans to host International Helmet Awareness Day 2011 on Saturday, June 11. Riders4Helmets.com has teamed up with leading helmet manufacturers to offer discounts on helmets to equestrians via participating retailers globally on this day.

More than 300 retailers in the U.S. and eight retailers Internationally offered discounts on helmets from eight different manufacturers during last year's event. It is anticipated that the 2011 event will attract participation from more than 500 equestrian retailers globally.

Helmet brands that have committed involvement in the promotion to date include Samshield, Troxel, Charles Owen, GPA, Aegis (Devon-Aire), Pegasus, Tipperary, Ovation, IRH and KEP Italia. Additional manufacturers are expected to commit to participating and will be announced in due course.

Individuals or organizations wishing to hold an event to recognize International Helmet Awareness Day may email admin@riders4helmets.com for helmet awareness graphics and other support materials.

"You can participate and show your support just by wearing a helmet on June 11, no matter whether you are trail riding, showing or competing," said Lyndsey White, co-founder of the riders4helmets.com campaign. "Additionally, Riders4Helmets.com logo wear is available for purchase at www.equestriancollections.com for equestrians who wish to show their support for the campaign."

Equestrians may visit www.riders4helmets.com to locate their nearest participating retailer.

Manufacturers or retailers wishing to participate in the event may visit the

For more information on the Riders4Helmets.com campaign, contact www.riders4helmets.com or Lyndsey White at lyndsey@riders4helmets.com. You can also follow the campaign at www.facebook.com/riders4helmets and <http://twitter.com/riders4helmets>.

The campaign is officially endorsed by USEF, USEA, USDF, USHJA, AETA, ARIA, EAF, CHA, PRO, EMSA and many leading equestrians.

Riders4Helmets.com was founded in early 2010 after Olympic dressage rider Courtney King Dye was seriously injured in a riding accident. King Dye, who remained in a coma for a month following her accident, was not wearing a helmet at the time of the accident and is currently undergoing rehabilitation.

Jeri Bryant donated her helmet campaign t-shirts (featuring the slogan, "Strap One On—Everyone's Doing it") to an eBay store set up to raise funds for King Dye, and a partnership was formed, resulting in the Riders4Helmets.com campaign.

Top 10 Reasons To Wear A Helmet

- 10) Modern helmets are cool! The excuse "they are not fashionable" can simply no longer be used. You can even pick a helmet in your favorite color!
- 9) Wearing a helmet gives me "helmet hair"well when you get out of bed in a morning you have "bed hair" and that became a hairstyle everyone wanted to copy!
- 8) Your brain is like Jello, take a tumble while not wearing a helmet and it will squash.
- 7) Wearing a properly fitted and secured ASTM/SEI certified helmet while riding means you can concentrate on having a nice ride and not worry about your head.
- 6) Wearing a helmet will greatly lessen the chance of you being one of approximately 12,000 equestrians who visit emergency rooms each year as a result of head injuries sustained while riding.
- 5) "The quality of helmets today leaves no excuse for not wearing one while riding 20 years ago helmets were not as good as they are today. 100 years ago all we had was a cowboy hat. Today because of huge leaps in technology there are helmets that are not only comfortable but also provide ventilation and most importantly protect the head and brain"— Dr. Geoff Tucker.
- 4) Think you are too good to need a helmet?WRONG. "The better you ride the harder you fall. Beginners fall off. Good riders get launched"— Jean White
- 3) Because at sometime, somewhere... there will be a child watching you...be a good role model. Role Model: someone worthy of imitation; every child needs a role model.
- 2) Riding as a sport has a certain amount of inherent risk due to the fact that a rider's head when mounted in the saddle may be up to 4m, or 13 feet, above ground level and horses are capable of moving at considerable speeds and can be unpredictable. Reduce your risk and strap on a helmet.
- 1) Because we care....and so does your Mom, Dad, Sister, Brother, Son, Daughter.....so please stay safe and wear a helmet.

SW Chapter Schooling Day: Tests and Tips

Three Southwest Chapter members helped riders stick their toes in the water, er, arena, before the show season was underway.

Kate Van Sicklen and Caryn Vesperman, "L" candidates, along with scribe, Ruth Crennell, volunteered their time Saturday, April 30 at Green Meadows Farm, Belleville. Kate and Caryn judged tests and provided feedback to help riders get ready for the show season or simply introduce their inexperienced horses to the show scene.

Thank you to Donna Thomas, SW Chapter president, for organizing the day!

WDCTA AWARDS

Make sure the class you submit for WDCTA awards meets the guidelines such as the right level of judge for the test level.
(For example, scores from WDCTA-recognized schooling shows above second level do not count if judged by an "L" candidate.)

NOTE: All USDF-USEF sanctioned dressage shows are eligible for WDCTA awards.

Get your awards registration form in seven days before the show you want to count for year-end awards. Find the rules and forms on wdcta.org under Forms located in the bottom bar of each web page.

Good luck and have fun!

Wisconsin Dressage & Combined Training Association Waiver, Release and Hold Harmless Agreement

Please read the following statements and indicate your understanding and agreement to them by signing below:

I, the undersigned, understand and believe that the use, handling and riding of horses involves a risk of physical injury to any individual undertaking such activities. I further know that any horse, irrespective of its training, usual past behavior and characteristics, may act or react unpredictably at any time. With full awareness of the foregoing, I am knowingly participating in a horse show judged by Caryn Vesperman and sponsored by the Wisconsin Dressage and Combined Training Association (WDCTA) and I voluntarily engage in this activity. The possibility of injury is accepted as a risk inherent in work on and around horses.

I, the undersigned, understand that horseback riding is a rigorous activity, both physically and mentally demanding. I hereby represent that my horse and I have the requisite level of physical fitness and mental alertness to enable us to participate in the horse show for which this waiver is being obtained. Both my horse and I are in good health and free from injury, illness or other defects, which may impair our ability to engage in this activity.

I, the undersigned, also understand that riding in a show by its nature requires that the judge issue direction in the form of "commands", and I understand that, while due deference must be given to such commands, I must and will use my own judgment whenever the situation demands it. I understand that all activities engaged in as part of the instruction are entirely voluntary and that I may elect not to comply with any suggested act. The Judge is entitled to my attentiveness and good faith efforts to respond to his/her directives, but he/she neither is entitled to nor requests absolute obedience and it is expected that I will at all times be alert and thinking while on horseback.

I, the undersigned, understand that approved riding helmets are required when mounted for all riders.

I, the undersigned, expressly and voluntarily assume all risks attendant to horseback riding and related activities, including but not limited to those discussed in the foregoing paragraphs. I do hereby fully and forever release, discharge, and hold harmless Caryn Vesperman, WDCTA, its officers and members, Sorensen Equestrian Park, as well as all other participants of the horse show, and the assigns of same, from any and all claims which I, the undersigned, or my assigns, may assert as a result of physical injury to a horse or rider, or loss of property, that incurred while a participant using, handling, or riding a horse while a participant in the WDCTA Kettle Moraine Chapter Grass Roots Dressage Show. My signature on this form constitutes expression of my understanding and agreement to all that is stated above and my total and unconditional release of Caryn Vesperman, WDCTA, its officers and members, and other show participants.

In accordance with the Wisconsin Law relating to the limitation of civil liability regarding equine activities:

"NOTICE: A person who is engaged for compensation in the rental of equines or equine equipment or tack or in the instruction of a person in the riding or driving of an equine or in being a passenger upon an equine is not liable for the injury or death of a person involved in equine activities resulting from the inherent risks of equine activities, as defined in section 895.481(1)(e) of the Wisconsin Statutes."

Dated: _____ Signature of participant: _____

I, the undersigned, am one of the parents of the above-named minor participant (and/or the duly appointed legal guardian of such minor), and I have full authority to sign this waiver for and on behalf of the minor. My signature on this form constitutes expression of my understanding and consent to the total and unconditional waiver set out above.
