Dressage Through the Levels Symposium

Join us on Nov. 19 & 20, 2011

“Through the Levels” Symposium: Wisconsin Dressage and Combined Training Association (WDCTA) presents two of the United States’ internationally known and respected dressage clinicians, Steffen Peters and Janet Foy.

Steffen Peters will work with each horse/ rider combination to help in moving them up the levels. And, Steffen will ride some of the horses! Together, Steffen and Janet will demonstrate and explain training exercises to help the horses and riders achieve correct basics and balance for their level.

Steffen Peters

Steffen Peters made history for the United States when he earned two Individual Bronze Medals at the ALLTECH World Equestrian Games this past fall at the Kentucky Horse Park. He is our top internationally competitive rider, having participated in competitions throughout the world including the Olympics and World Games. He and his horse, Ravel (owned by Akiko Yamazaki, wife of Jerry Yang, founder of Yahoo!) earned the 2010 USDF Horse of the Year at Grand Prix. He is known around the world because of his accomplishments. We are extremely excited to bring Steffen Peters to our area for this symposium. We have been working with him for a return visit for more than three years, and were able to obtain the one available date he had for 2011. This shows how much in demand he is as a clinician, plus he is an active competitor who is also currently focusing on the 2012 Olympics in London.

Janet Foy

Most recently Janet Foy was director of dressage at the ALLTECH World Equestrian Games -- the first time this international championship has been held outside of Europe. She managed the television and online coverage, among many other fast-paced duties. Janet is currently an Federation Equestrian International (FEI) “I” judge, United States Equestrian Federation (USEF) “S” dressage judge and a USEF sporthorse “R” breeding judge. She has judged at all major shows in the United States including the USA World Cup League Finals. She also has judged national and international championships in Guatemala, England, Columbia, Costa Rica, Puerto Rico, Barbados, Canada, Poland, Australia and Mexico, as well as the FEI World Cup League Finals for the U.S., Canada and Australia. Janet was on the dressage selection panels for our 2004 Athens Olympic team, the 2006 World Equestrian team, the 2007 Pan American Games and the 2010 World Equestrian Games.

WDCTA

Wisconsin Dressage & Combined Training Association (WDCTA) is a non-profit organization, run by dedicated volunteers, and organized by chapters located throughout the state. WDCTA is a charter member of our national organization, the United States Dressage Federation, meaning WDCTA was one of the founding members of the USDF. WDCTA is the oldest and largest USDF group member organization in Wisconsin. Our activities are dedicated to promoting the sport of dressage and eventing. The funds we raise through special events such as this are used to fund scholarships and educational activities. The Southwest Chapter is the organizing chapter for this symposium.

Symposium Demonstration Riders Needed

The symposium will consist of a learning component with three horses demonstrating the dressage levels during 45- to 60-minute sessions on Saturday and Sunday. Riders selected must participate both days; riders cannot apply to ride for one day session only. Fees are $100 for WDCTA members or $150 for non-WDCTA members, plus stabling fees of $45/per day. NOTE: This fee does not include a groom. Anyone providing assistance to you must pay the auditor fee.

Deadline for receiving the application is Saturday noon, Oct. 1, 2011. For more information and an application form, visit wdcta.org. For questions, contact DeAnn Howard, 17432 W. State Rd. 59, Evansville, WI 53536; 608-882-4196; deann@litewire.net.
